YOUR "BEST" GIRL.

THE WAY YOU TREATED HER ONCE. HOW DO YOU TREAT HER NOW!

COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE.

These were happy days.

Courting days!

Love is a lightning that never really strikes a man but once. It may graze him a second or a third time, but it doesn't really get into his vitals but that once. After that it may scorch him a little here and there, but he only gets "done a nice, crisp brown" just once. You can't cook the same bird a second time-you may "warm it over." but that isn't really cooking, either in kitchen or courtship.

Do you remember the days when you courted her? Do you remember the old trysting places?

Were you one of the good boys who used to really take her to church and sit beside her there and thrill thrills every time her skirts rustled, and build air castles about the future while the preacher's voice sounded like an echo talking to somebody way off in the next county?

Or were you one of the naughty boys who didn't go into the church, but hung arcund the outside, and then, at the benediction, made a wild dash for the door and crooked your elbow as she came down the church steps? And if she was graciciously pleased to take it, didn't you walk home with her with your pompadour fairty sweeping the star dust from the milky way? Didn't you lop, and loll and hang on that front gate until her pa gave up mending it in despair, and let it fall off the ninges, cians in N. Y. state, and he considered your remedies as better than all others, and prescribed them daily in his practice. On the strength of this commendation I tried your 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pellets' in my family. The 'Favorite Prescription' has acted like magic in cases of irregular and painful monthly periods, a few doses only being necessary to restore the natural function. The 'Pellets' have proven an infallible cure for sick and billious headache."

Maybe it was a boat. An old, watersoaked, watter-logged craft, with mildewed planks turning green. The oars were heavy and clumsy and made big blood blisters on your palms, but what did you care, when you were showing her how strong and what a skillful oarsman you were? And you pulled upstream early in the evening, on the shallow side under the long point where the current wasn't strong. When the stars began to peep out here and there and the only trace of the departed day was just a faint shadow of aurora borealis in the West, you pulled across the river into the bend where the current ran strong under the high banks. The moon came out and danced across the rippling waters and in just one place made a long lane of milky light clear to the other shore. The overhanging cottonwood trees shed fleecy cotton balls that softly fell with long, graceful sweeps to and fro, and at last littered the surface of the lapping water like a fall of summer snow. Wasn't the current in the bend so swift that you found it unnecessary to row? You took an oar and sat in the stern beside her. The seat was so small tha: it was a heautifully snug fit. And then she took the oar and tried to guide the boat. And you had to put your arm clear around her to reach that oar and help her guide, for fear she'd run the boat into a bank of soft sand and sink. At last, when the landing place was reached, how carefully you helped her ashore. How frightened you were lest she'd get just one splash of water on those dalaty little boots!

Are you as careful—are you as thoughtful of her now—as in the old days of sled hoots!

Are you as careful—are you as thoughtful of her now—as in the old days of sled and boatriding? Do you ever stop to think of her health now that she is your wife and the mother of your babes?

of her health now that she is your wife and the mother of your babes?

Do you know that seven women out of every ten suffer from weakness or disease of the delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible? Do you know that their sufferings steal the graceful spring from their carriage, the color from their cheeks and the love light from their eyes? Do you know that these conditions, if neglected, condemn the mother to an untimely death, and her babes to sickness and suffering? Do you know that there is a safe and unfailing remedy for all troubles of this description within the reach of all? There is. It is Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It imparts to them the tone, vigor and elasticity that rob maternity of its dangers and its terrors. It cures all functional and organic disorders of the organs, and with them all sympathetic manifestations like neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus' dance, nervous prostration, despondency and irritability.

Taken during the period preceding maternity it banishes the usual discomforts and

A man who observes and "wi' observation thought of the embarrassing "examinations" upon which nearly all doctors insist.

Rather than undergo these they suffer in elience. The husband should interfere with his knowledge that these examinations are very generally unnecessary. He should mever to be replaced until after that dizzy, all-mixed-up day when you were married?

What kind of a vehicle was in your courtship? There always is a vehicle of some kind-a buggy or a boat, or just a sled to coast on in winter.

If it was a sled do you remember how careful you were to hold her on as you went spinning down the snow-clad hills. And how you put your arm around her to keep her from slipping on the way up again?

If it was a buggy, do you remember how the old horse used to saunter up and down the green walled lanes, stopping now and then to nibble at the hedges or reach up and pull a tender twig from an overhanging tree? For, although it was summer, you were so afraid she would catch cold that you had to hold her cloak on with both hands.

The stars do not shine as bright nowadays, and there is a't anything like as many.

Missouri National Depositors, So Far a Unit in Favor of Reorganization.

Although the circulars calling on the Missouri National depositors to express an opinion on the proposed reorganization wer only sent out on Thursday evening, the committee yesterday received a large ber of replies and were gratified to find that all favored the plan. From the rapid way in which the replies

From the rapid way in which the replies have started to come in, it is hoped row that all may be heard from within fifteen days. Mr. H. P. Clark, speaking for the stockholders, said yesterday that as soon as a sufficient number of the depositors had been heard from to insure the going through of the reorganization, the promoters of the new bank would go right ahead. They are ready to put their money up and are simply waiting to hear the will of the depositors.

PRECIOUS METALS INWROUGHT. Unique and Attractive Paper Weight Presented to a Popular Customs House Official. Captain Stephenson, of the custom house resterday received a peculiar paper weight from the smelter management at Argentine. It consists of parts of the product of the plant and is made of six short bars of the plant and is made of six short bars of refined lead, across which is placed a copper ingot, on top of which is a silver plate held in place by two gold fastenings. The silver plate shows by the engraving on it that during the year 18% there was handled at the smelter 127,000 nunces of gold, 11,820,000 ounces of silver, 2,600,000 pounds of copper and 35,000 tons of lead. The samples used in the paper weight are neatly proportioned and make a unique and attractive ornament for an office desk.

POLICE MAY COLLECT FEES.

WILL BE PAID THE SAME AS OTHER WITNESSES IN CITY CASES.

Police Judge Gifford Had Refused to Allow Officers Who Testified in His Court Remuneration for Their Services.

Circuit Judge Henry made an order yesterday that is of interest to every patrolman in Kansas City. He granted a per emptory mandamus compelling Police Judge Gifford to allow each policeman who testifies in his court a fee of 50 cents. For a long time the police were allowed fees for testifying in pelice court, but finally they were discontinued on the ground that the colice were the city's servants and were paid a salary for the services they performed as witnesses. The fees received by the police do not benefit them, except in a general way, as they are turned into the general fund of the Police Relief Association to be paid to the widows of officers who may die or be killed in the service.

The police had trouble for a while about collecting fees in state cases, but the jusness of their cause was finally conceded, and in this way a healthy revenue is conceded, and in this way a healthy revenue is constantly kept flowing in to the relief association treasury. Judge Gifford was not averse to allowing the fees, but he was following a precedent, and then proceedings were begun to compel him to allow the officers to collect fees. The result will be that off-enders will be taxed 50 cents extra for being arrested.

TRIED IN STOLEN TROUSERS.

Prisoner Wears Evidence of His Guilt to Justice Krueger's Court and Then Regrets It.

"Jedge, he done toted off mah best Sunday pants, dat's what he did, an' he's a-wearin' of dem dis yoro blessed minute." It was "Doctor" Rogers who was telling Justice Krueger from the witness stand yesterday how he had lost an important fraction of his wardrobe. "Doctor" Rogers is an old colored man who does od i jobs about the commission houses on lower Walnut street. He had had Jerry McKindey, another colored man arrested for Walnut street. He had had Jerry McKiney, another colored man, arrested for stealing a pair of trousers from his room. "I done distrusted de keys of mah room to Jerry. Yes, sah, dat's whut I did, sah, distrusted him wif de keys. An' dat's de las' I see of dat hoy. Dat's de las' I see of mah pants, too, till ah laid eyes on Jerry. I axed him fo' mah pants, an' ne aggravates mah min' by refusin' to reciprocate de goods," and he shook his head earnestly. The "doctor" had several witnesses to identify the bright colored trousers as his property, and Justice Krueger sentenced Jerry to five days in jail.

FIVE YEARS IN A WOMAN'S LIFE.

Lizzie Ellis, Colored, Steals a Watch and the Law's Heavy Hand Puts Her Away for a Long Stretch. She was just a plain, ordinary colored woman-neither passing fair nor flashily dressed. She had never been accused of poisoning anybody. And so when she was poisoning anybody. And so when she was yesterday led before the bar of the criminal court charged with stealing a watch—it was not a very valuable timepiece—from Clifford Herington, the jury eyed her askance and the prosecutor fulminated against her. There was no mystery in her life—she did not plead that she had taken the watch by mental suggestion. The jury retired to the sanctity of the room—the same room where a verdict was made up that gave a cow thief two years and a coid blooded murderer two years—and decided to send her to the penitentiary for five years. She heard the fatal words fall from the lips of the clerk as he read the verdict; she saw the looks of surprise on the faces of the spectators. A confused jangle of noises beat in at her ears. Then they led her away. Lizzie Ellis was only a colored woman; but she had stolen a watch.

O'NEILL SAYS HE IS READY. County Seems to Be in No Hurry to Take Depositions in His Case.

While the public is anxiously awaiting developments in the O'Neill-Eppstein affair, the taking of depositions seems to be hanging fire for some reason best known to the counsel for the county. Some days ago Mr. James G. Smart was appointed as commissioner to take depositions and it was reported that the deposition of Accountant Eppstein would be taken at once. There have been two or three postponements and ex-Sheriff O'Neill claims that the delay is not on his part, as he is all ready to hear or to give testimony and is, indeed, anxious for the county to present its case. Mr. O'Neill stated yesterday that he had just finished going over all his work while sheriff and felt confident that he would have no difficulty in proving that he does not owe the county a cent.

Bicycle Dealer, Laundrymen and Brewers Appeal Their Cases to the Criminal Court.

Schmelzer, a bicycle dealer at Ninth and Main streets, was fined $25 in police court yesterday for doing business without court yesterday for doing business without a license. The fine was imposed under the new license ordinance. Mr. Schmelzer appealed the case to the criminal court.

S. H. White, of White's laundry, and John Adams, of the Rochester brewery, were fined $10 and $20, respectively, in police court yesterday for operating delivery wagons without licenses. The cases were appealed to the criminal court. Attorney Wollman, for the brewers and laundrymen, gave formal notice of appeal in all the cases wherein arrests are made for the same offense.

C. H. Howard Institutes Suit Against J. P. Butterfield and Eighteen Other Defendants.

C. H. Howard yesterday filed suit in the circuit court at Independence for $20,000 damages against J. P. Butterfield and eighteen other defendants. The defendant are members of the Stock Yards company and the Traders' exchange. Howard claims that the high entrance fee of the latter organization prevents him from operating on the exchange and that he has been damaged in the sum named.

A Line That Divides Cemeteries. The city of Independence, through its attorney, commenced suit in the circuit court yesterday against Bishop John J. Hogan and Thomas Fitzgeraid to determine the boundary line between the Catholic and Protestant cemeteries. For some years past there has been no dividing fence between the cemeteries. Recently a fence has been erected, which takes in a portion of the cemetery belonging to the city. For a number of years the Catholics have had possession of the ground, and it is to settle the matter amicably that the suit is brought.

Women Who Ask Divorces.

Four unhappy women filed suits in the circuit court at Independence yesterday for divorce. The husband of one smoked his pipe in the house, one wayward man was a vastant and two unceremonlously deserted their homes, so the petitions allege. The applicants are: Mrs. Eva Luckey, from Robert W. Luckey, smoking a pipe in the house; Lizzle Heller from L. J. Heller, vagrancy; Amanda Hines from John Hines, desertion; Grace Downing from Emoree Downing, desertion.

uit Against a Benevolent Order. W. J. Willim has begun suit in the circuit court against the Knights and Ladies of the Fireside for $4.300 damages. He says he was supreme medical director of the order, for which he has $2.000 coming to him. The $2.300 is for alleged damages sustained by the supreme council holding out his applications. Last week a widow asked $500 from this same society due her on the policy of her late husband.

Cansas City Once More a Defendant. Mary Matilda Brown yesterday filed sult in the circuit court at Independence against Kansas City for $5,000 damages. The plaintiff is alleged to have sustained injuries while riding in a wagon on Indiana avenue, which was kept in an improper condition, causing her to be joited out.

Faulty Warrant Alds a Prisoner. The case against Mrs. M. J. MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

Miss Davenport will be seen in "Fedora" at the Auditorium this afternoon, and tonight her successful engagement will close with a repetition of "La Tosca." Afternoon and evening performances of "Dodge at the French Ball" will close the Henshaw engagement at the Grand.

There has been a large sale of seats for the Francis Wilson engagement at the Auditorium next week. It is said that no other opera in which Mr. Wilson has appeared has met with the great success that has been accorded "Half a King," which has been used for this season. The production is said to be superb, while the music and the comedy promises to be far above the average.

The Nethersole engagement at the Coates next week promises to be a big one. The brilliant young actress made a lasting impression when she played in this city a year ago, and as she will be seen in three of the bills given then, in addition to two new ones, the week will be a particularly important one at this theater. The sale, which has been in progress since Thursday, is said to be very large.

Joseph Murphy, who will come to the Ninth Street Sunday afternoon for a week's engagement, will be seen in his two most lasting successes, "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue."

One of the largest advance sales in the history of the Grand opera house has taken place for the engagement of Peter F. Dai-ley, who with to-morrow's matinee will place for the engagement of Peter F. Dailey, who with to-morrow's matinee will commence a week's engagement, and will introduce here for the first time his latest farcical success entitled "A Good Thing." The original company together with the unusually elaborate settings of scenery and costumes, will be brought here intact. The part accorded to Mr. Dailey is that of an auctioneer with a supreme impertinence that is taking. Any one who has seen Mr. Dailey at all will know that such a part is an ideal one for him. His breezy, inexhaustible flow of good humor and originality fills the role with incessant mirth. Mr. Dailey is ably seconded by Miss Flora Irwin, sister of May Irwin.

as a gentleman if you go around spitting on car floors, and hotel floors, and court room floors, and other floors. If you want to expectorate, wait a while. At a meeting of the uncommon council in a few days one of the aldermen will "take the floor" and offer a resolution to the effect that every business house be compelled to pay a license of $9.98 (marked down from $10) a year, and that this sum so raised be expended in expectoration receptacles to be placed at intervals of two feet apart all over the paved district. It is hinted on the quiet that there is to be a divvy, if the scheme goes through, between the man who gets the contract for supplying the cuspidors, the manufacturers of plug tobacco and the alderman who gets the scheme through.
